ROAD AID GRANT EXPECTED

County Officials Promised Highway Funds

Assurances that Allen-co will obtain a share of all surplus federal road money that is available were given to county commissioners when they consulted with state highway department heads in Columbus Monday.

Just what amount of money is available, thru other counties failing to put down paving planned, cannot be stated, commissioners were informed.

Allen-co asked $50,000 for the completion of the old Perrysburg-rd from Cairo to the county line. The county would put up an equal amount or more to match the appropriation.

District highway engineers from all parts of the state are to meet in Columbus this week and following the session information may be obtained concerning the amount of surplus money. Frank W. Daum, Lima, division engineer, and Charles Ash, resident engineer will attend the meeting.

CHRISTMAS TREES TO BE DELIVERED WEDNESDAY

William Paul Gallagher Post, American Legion, will deliver 325 trees to downtown merchants Wednesday morning and the evergreens soon will be placed in front of their respective places of business.

The trees are to be inserted in the flagpole holes along Main, Market, Elizabeth, Spring, Union, High and North-sts in the business section and will remain there until after Christmas, according to James E. Morton, manager of the Lima Board of Commerce, which is backing the idea.

The Christmas tree decoration plan is thought to be entirely new and Lima is the city wherein it originated. Delphos, Ottawa and other towns near Lima also have taken up the idea, it is said.

A number of merchants were unable to be reached by the tree order-takers last week and those who wish to purchase one or more trees should call the Board of Commerce immediately and evergreens will be laid aside for them.

2 CONFESS THEFT

ROBBERY OF STREET CAR SOLVED BY DETECTIVES

Police Culminate Investigation With Round Up

PRISONERS IDENTIFIED

Burglaries May Be Cleared up Thru Arrests

Scores of recent burglaries and holdups in Lima will be solved, police assert following the arrest late Monday night and early Tuesday morning of two men who confessed to one street car holdup, and of a number of suspects who are expected to clear up many store robberies.

Monday night's roundup, which was planned more than a month ago, followed a period of secret investigations which covered weeks. Plainclothesmen Ward Taylor and Jesse Hargrove, working under Inspector of Detectives Willis Kipker, were responsible for the arrests.

Charles David "Chuck" Martin, 20, of 136 E. Grand-av, and Herman Bowersock, 24, of 717 E. Vine-st, after having been positively identified, admitted the holdup and robbery of a S. Pine-st car a month ago. They entered pleas of guilty to charges of highway robbery in criminal court Tuesday, and were bound over to the grand jury by Judge Neal Poling under $2,000 bond each.

OTHERS HELD

Others who were arrested and who are facing searching investigation are William Searle, 19, of Detroit; Garland Potts, 18, of 148 S. Pine-st; Steiner Armentrout, of 451 1-2 N. Main-st, and Harry Myers, 18, of 654 N. Jackson-st.

Martin and Bowersock admitted the street car holdup only after they were identified by H. B. White, operator for the street railway company, as the men who robbed him at the point of a pistol of $22 on the night of Nov. 14.

Attempts to implicate them in a number of other street car jobs were unavailing. No positive evidence that they had to do with any of the others is available, police claim.

During the past three months the railway company has lost nearly $250 in a series of holdups, several of which were conducted by colored men who in each case eluded the police dragnet which was spread within a few minutes after the robbery.

A reward of $50 which was offered by Superintendent F. A. Bundy of the railway company for the arrest of the persons guilty of the robbery Nov. 14, will be paid by the company to Officers Taylor and Hargrove, who in turn will be required to turn the money into the pension fund.

STORY TOLD

"On the night of Nov. 14 I met Bowersock at Saxby's soft drink parlor, as he and I had agreed several days before. We discussed our plans for a few minutes, after which we walked to Fourth-st and boarded the car.

"We both walked back in the car and sat down, Bowersock in the seat behind me. After we had ridden several blocks Bowersock got up and asked me if I was ready. I told him yes and we both got up.

"We then held up the motorman Bowersock had my pistol, a .45 calibre automatic. He commanded him to 'stick 'em up,' which he did I got the changer and other money, which we split later."

In the event that they are not able to furnish bond, the two men will be taken to the county jail to await the next session of the grand jury.

Other suspects who are being held at headquarters will be arraigned Wednesday in criminal court, it was said.

Carl Pritchard, 19, of 346 E. Kibby st, who was arrested Monday following the robbery of the A. Rinella and Happy Harper groceries Sunday night, is still being held at headquarters.

WEDDINGS DELAYED

Everyone is waiting for Christmas to get married in the opinion of Miss Jessie Pleasure Miller, license clerk in probate court, whose business is to see that couples wanting to be mated have the proper qualifications.

No licenses have been issued in the past two days and few since the first of the month. These facts lead Miss Miller to conclude that lovers are waiting until Yuletide to take marital vows.

SPIRITISM FACT SAYS DOYLE

Author Insists Departed Communicate With Living

LONDON—(By United Press)—A group of scientific spirits, not dead, but "merely beyond the gulf," have organized for spirit research and are in communication with the earth, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle announced today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

Sir Arthur joined Sir Oliver Lodge in asserting positively that important communication between departed spirits and living spiritualists, have been established.

"I believe this to be no longer a matter for conjecture," the distinguished British author, creator of "Sherlock Holmes," said.

"It is a fact and must be accepted as a fact.

Conan Doyle said many members of the society of psychical research, a pioneer body for spiritualistic investigation, have "passed on" and in their new life are continuing their researches.

"The sprit group, groping thru the void, has established communication with the living group here and an enormous amount of material has been interchanged between them," said Sir Arthur.

"This matter will all be published in due time. It is of vast importance and is being studied and analyzed daily."

His amazing description of a celestial branch of the society of psychical research was by no means the only disclosure Sir Arthur in the United Press interview had to make.

"I can vouch personally for the fact that many persons who have passed on and also were of vigorous and vital personality while on earth retain that personality. And some of them, still intensely interested in affairs on earth, are trying to break thru," he asserted.

"Most of these persons have told us little about conditions beyond the void. They are more interested in happenings here and most of their energy has been directed toward watching their friends and comrades still alive.

"One such individual closely scrutinizing earth is Lord Northcliffe.

"As is well known, Northcliffe has several times managed to gain communication with earth thru various mediums and he has talked with some of his friends. This communication which I have myself observed is absolutely a fact."

Sir Arthur said that a cloud of ignorance and skepticism was impeding the work of true scientific believers, but that sooner or later it would be dispersed. Meanwhile, he said, psychic investigation is making vast progress.

"It is a matter of education pure and simple. As soon as the man in the street recovers from the murk of superstitious ignorance which clouds him, he will understand. Even our 'educated class,' our prelates and our scientists, are woefully purblind. But meanwhile our work goes on.

"America lacks moral courage to see this thing clearly. There is no great leader in America like our own Oliver Lodge. And the American people, hoodwinked by fraud and charlatanism, have tumbled backward into ignorance."

Sir Arthur said that several great American public characters were susceptible to psychic influences, notably Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln, he added, was helped to win the Civil war by advice from spiritualistic sources.

Few Protest New Gas Rate

SPANISH TROOPS ARE LEAVING MOROCCO

Mother Country Unable to Conquer Moors

DIFFICULTIES TOO GREAT

Gen. Rivera Takes Command of Retreat

GIBRALTER — (By United Press) — Retreat of the proud armies of Spain before the savage, robed tribesmen of Abdul Krim is under way.

Gen. Promor Rivera, head of the Spanish military government, who came to Morocco in person to superintend the withdrawal of his troops has started one of the most perilous phases of the consolidation of lines he determined upon when it became apparent Spain could no longer afford to occupy all her Moroccan domain against the rebellious natives.

It is a task of all but insurmountable difficulties, for 40,000 men must be brought in safety along a single torturous mountain trail, all but impassable for motors and so narrow that only six men can march abreast.

PASSAGE DANGEROUS

Every inch of the way is contested bitterly by the Moors. There is continual sniping from the mountain sides, where ghostly tribesmen, the gray of their Bournooses blending with gray of the rocks, lie in wait for the Spanish troops.

And torrential rains have added to the discomfort of Spain. The retreat is sloshing thru a morass of sticky, slippery clay, mules falling and dying beside the trail, cursing troops slogging under full equipment, fighting, marching and then fighting and marching again.

For a fortnight the main body of the armies of Spain have been mobilized around Zoco Abaa, enduring, as the soldiers describe it, "the horrors of perdition."

It rained and rained. Wet, sullen, cursing men tramped guard posts and cared little if the waspilke Moors descended upon them.

Then Saturday the sun came out, drying the roads with an upper crust which layered the mud with deceptive thinness of the top of a well browned pumpkin pie. And the retreat was on.

PLANS WITHDRAWAL

Small contingents, protected by air planes roared overhead, their motors growing to a crescendo of sound as they darted from hillside to hillside to bomb the group of Moorish guerilla constantly harassing the march.

The United Press correspondent was permitted to witness the withdrawal from a point 10 miles south of Tetuan—the focal point of the withdrawal from Zoco Abaa, which is only 12 miles farther south.

But it is "12 miles of hell," as a young officer said profanely. Twelve miles of turning, twisting, jagged mountain trail. Twelve miles of fighting unseen foe.

Twelve miles over which scores of tons of supplies, thousands of men, huge guns, herds of livestock and all the litter that goes with an army on the move must be transported with order and precision.

Shoes Too Big, Foot Poisoned

MILLER CITY—Fred Joseph, 50, farmer, is in a critical condition at the home of his mother, Mrs. Valeria Joseph, four miles northwest of here, with blood poisoning developed from a rubbing of his shoe against his big toe.

Joseph was picked up on the road between here and Continental after he had walked several of the nine miles from the interurban station.

The farmer had been shopping in Defiance and rode the street car to Continental. His toe hurt him on the car and during the walk the pain caused him to sink at the side of the road.

Blood poison developed and spread thru the foot. Physicians declare his condition is critical and state that amputation of the foot may be necessary.

BODY IS FOUND IN VAULT

Believed Man Missing Two Years Was Slain

TOLEDO —The body of Joseph Reau, 45, Toledo, missingg for nearly two years, was found in the bottom of a vault in the rear of a Huron, O., pool room late yesterday. Apparently he had been robbed and murdered and his body concealed by his assailants.

Fifteen hundred dollars, that he is believed to have carried when he disappeared, was not found on the body, altho a gold watch and $12 in small bills were not disturbed. Reau disappeared March 16, 1923.

His continued absence resulted in a search by Toledo police, sheriffs of several counties and Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad detectives.

A young man who was seen in Reau's company shortly before he disappeared was sought.

The body of the Toledoan was found by workmen cleaning out the vault. Because of its condition it has not been determined whether Reau was slugged or shot.

WOOLLEY ESTATE FIGHT LOOMS

Case to Reopen Dec. 18 Before Ohio Supreme Court

Legal battle for the fortune of the late Joseph T. Woolley, which had apparently been won by legal heirs, headed by Mrs. Hazel R. Newbold, of Little Rock, is to be renewed before the Ohio supreme court on Dec. 18.

Attorneys for Maud Michael, housekeeper for the aged recluse, have gained permission from the court to reopen certain phases of the case.

If their contentions are successful, the technical decision won by nephews and nieces of Woolley may be reversed. The supreme court has the power to reverse itself on any case in the same term. The present term closes Dec 31.

Bride-T-Be Shares Wealth

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—The McClintock millions, now termed the "fatal fortune" go into new hands by the will of William N. McClintock, the "millionaire orphan" made public today.

Miss Isabelle Pope, McClintock's fiancee, who was ready to marry him in the hospital in response to his wish as death approached, receives an income of $8,000 a year.

The remainder of the estate originally estimated at $3,000,000 and which has greatly increased, some estimates now placing it at $5,000,000 or $6,000,000, is left to McClintock's foster father, William D. Shepperd, an attorney. The fortune in a comparatively few years has passed from one hand to another, no holder having long enjoyed it before death intervened. In making the bequest to his fiancee, the will states:

"I make this bequest as a token of the love and affection I have for her and as a proper protection for her until such time as our marriage shall be consummated."

CITIZENS SHOW VERY LITTLE INTEREST

Commission May Approve Company Schedule

FINAL ACTION DELAYED

Minimum Charge Only Draws Ire of Consumers

Lack of interest on the part of gas users in Lima in connection with the public hearing on the new rates that was slated to be held by the city commission Monday night seemed apparent when only about 30 persons appeared and a part of this number spoke against the proposed gas rates.

The commission had filled the chamber with chairs in anticipation of a big gathering but the regular accommodations would have taken care of those who called.

Those present said they were "small amount" gas users and said they had petitions bearing 700 names, which they had circulated, the petitions asking for a protest against the rates filed recently by the West Ohio Gas Co. at Columbus.

Approximately 10 of the delegation spoke, voicing their sentiments against the rates, particularly the charge of $1.35 for the first 400 cubic feet. This clause of the rate schedules appeared to cause the most concern among those present.

The delegation said additional petitions and names will be presented at the next meeting of the commission.

NO ACTION

The city commission failed to take action Monday night and one of two members expressed themselves Tuesday as being opposed to fighting the rates declaring they believed the Insull syndicate which owns the local company, has fixed the best rate possible for manufactured gas. They said they felt a protest at Columbus, if a long fight should be the result, would mean a higher rate in the end.

One commissioner said the city commission is without power to act further than to file a protest should there be an overwhelming demand for such action. He declared that the public would do better, if it is interested, to go direct to the Utilities commission with its action.

Official notification to commission of the new rate schedule has not been made by the public utilities commission, Commissioner Earl Rohn stated in his speech in which he reviewed the procedure necessary in event a protest is filed.

Rohn explained that the first step is the filing of a rate schedule with the State Public Utilities commission which body notifies the city of the rate, giving the city 30 days in which to act. In event no action is taken the rate becomes effective. In event the city wishes to oppose the rate, a formal protest is filed and a hearing before the utilities commission is granted.

BODY DECIDES

The state body in presiding as a court either sustains or rejects the rate on the basis of the physical valuation of the gas company, considering an eight per cent profit as a maximum on the valuation. Should the city lose at the hearing, the case can be carried to the state supreme court for final decision.

This procedure took place in Lima in 1921-1922 during the gas rate fight which was lost by the city after nine months of litigation which was started by the old council and finished by the city commission.

A peculiar situation exists in Lima different from that in other cities. The gas company has a perpetual franchise, which was obtained in 1884 for either natural or artificial gas. This franchise can be terminated only on agreement of both parties, according to Solicitor Paul Landis, who declared in answer to questions of citizens that the city is unable to enjoin the gas company from filing a new rate. The entire action, he said, depends on the utilities commission.

Intimations that a higher rate will be presented by West Ohio Gas Co. to the State Public Utilities commission in event the company is forced to spend a large sum of money to substantiate the rate were made at the meeting by several commissioners who said they believed that the gas com-

FORUM PROGRAM RATIFIED

Exceptional List of Speakers to Be Heard Here

Remainder of the Lima Open Forum winter program was ratified by members of the program committee at a meeting Monday evening at the Lima Public Library.

Report that the meeting was to have been held to discuss the probability of cancelling the remainder of the program because of lack of finances was unfounded, Mrs. Beecher Moke, chairman, said Tuesday. The meeting was called simply to discuss the remaining numbers on the program which will be carried thru as originally planned, she said.

The Lima Open Forum is one of many similar organizations in the larger cities of the United States. Purpose of the Forum is to discuss the momentous issues of the day. At each Forum meeting a prominent speaker lectures on a certain subject, following which questions are asked from the audience which the lecturer answers, to the best of his ability.

Warden P. E. Thomas, of the Ohio State penitentiary will be the next speaker on the Forum program here. He will talk at Trinity M. E. church Sunday at 2:30 p. m. on "Real Facts in Prison Reform." Undoubtedly part of his lecture will be on the subject of capital punishment.

Following is the remainder of the winter and spring program: Jan. 18, Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall, of the Ohio Supreme court, on "Relation of the Citizen to Law;" Feb 15, Edward Steiner, widely known lecturer, on "Making of a New Race." March 1, Albert E. Coyle, editor, on "What Labor Wants," March 29, debate between Bluffton college and Ohio Northern university teams on "The St Lawrence River Navigation Project;" April 22, Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, on "Law Enforcement."

The Open Forum program committee is made up of Mrs Moke, chairman; Louis P Tolby, Rev C. A. Rowand, City Manager C. A. Bingham and Elmer McClain, Open Forum secretary.

Whatever your favorite radio set may be you can have it in a Victrola

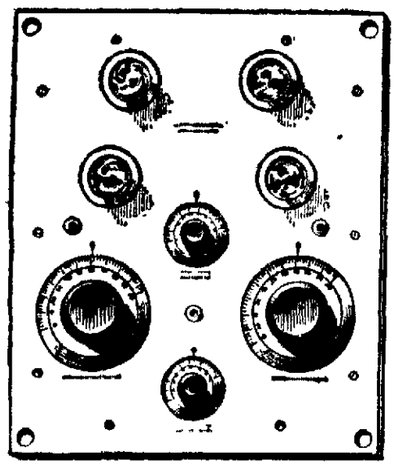

Every prominent manufacturer of radio equipment has offered to make radio sets which might be built into Victrola instruments. But with so many excellent radio sets on the market we are unwilling to limit our customers' freedom of choice—unwilling to commit them to a built-in proposition which is likely to become obsolete.

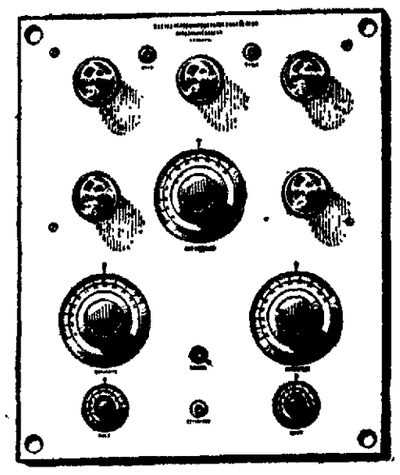

Instead we have so modified the construction of our instruments that virtually any of the more reliable radio sets may be installed as a complete unit ready to operate as soon as delivered.

In this way our customers may combine the radio set they prefer with the Victrola, the one instrument which in giving them the music of their own choice at whatever time they may choose to hear it offers such a service as has never yet been equalled.

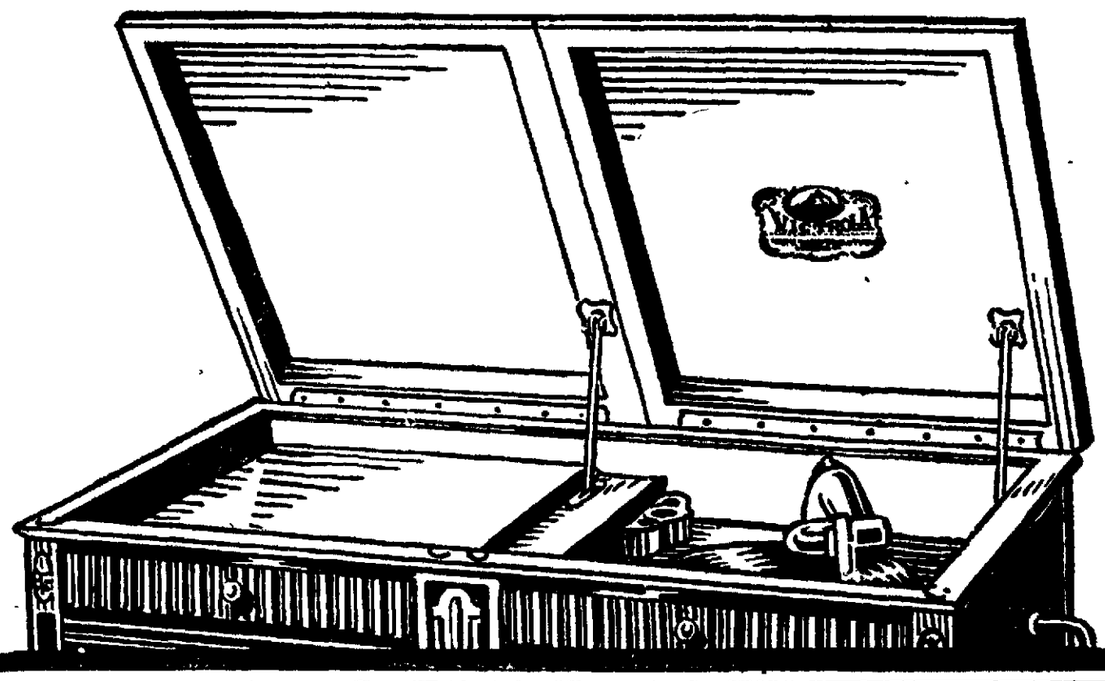

There is but one Victrola and that is made by the Victor Company

DUKE FORTUNE FOR WELFARE

College Benefits to Extent of $6,000,000

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—Forty-six million dollars of the fortune he has amassed as a power magnate has been given to the creation of a trust fund by James B. Duke to be used for educational, charitable and religious purposes, chiefly in the states of North and South Carolina.

Announcement of the fund, to be administered by 15 trustees as a self-perpetuating body, was made here last night by Duke who in specifying the institutions and purposes for which the fund will be used, said the securities set aside for it include about three-fourths of his holdings in the Southern Power System.

COLLEGE BENEFITS

The fund contains an alternative provision by which Trinity college at Durham, N. C., may have $6,000,000 of the total to be used in its expansion if it elects to change its name to Duke university. Otherwise the trustees are directed to spend not more than that amount in establishing a Duke university in North Carolina.

Gratitude for the offer was expressed last night at Durham by Dr. William P. Few, president of Trinity; Joseph Brown, president of Trinity board of trustees, altho withholding comment as to what action might be taken by the board, the next regular meeting of which is not scheduled until June, expressed the opinion "that the board would convene promptly to consider an offer coming from such a source."

Providing for retention of 20 per cent of the annual income on the remaining $40,000,000 to be added to the principal until it amounts to $80,000,000 the plan specifies the division to be made of the remaining income, with 32 per cent to go to Duke university "for all purposes," and an equal percentage to the building and maintenance of hospitals, chiefly in North and South Carolina. Smaller percentages are allotted to charitable work among whites and negroes in the two states, to the Methodist Episcopal church in North Carolina, and to other educational institutions in the two states.

SOCIAL WELFARE

Duke explained that his purpose in establishing the fund was to use the revenues from his water developments in the Carolinas to "administer to the social welfare" of the state as these developments are now administering to their "economic welfare." The creator of the fund named Mrs. Duke as one of the 15 trustees.

Young Artist Pays Penalty For Murder

HULL, England — (By Associated Press) — William G Smith, the young painter whose condemnation to death for the murder of a woman last August aroused intensive appeals for clemency, was hanged at 9 o'clock this morning The woman slain was Mrs. Elizabeth Bousefield.

In a last desperate effort to save Smith's life a number of local notables, including the mayor's wife, this morning telegraphed an appeal to King George asking him to exercise his royal prerogative and spare the condemned man's life, but the appeal was unavailing.

The "royal prerogative" in such cases exists nowadays in theory only as the king can only refer such things to his ministers.

Before the appeal to the king every effort had been made to obtain a reprieve from the home secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, but a deputation headed by Commander Kenworthy M P and including six other commoners was forced to report failure.

The populace was greatly stirred over the case and filled the churches for hours while special prayers were said for the condemned man A meeting of 10,000 persons yesterday threatened a general strike if their reprieve petition was not granted, and Commander Kenworthy announced that he feared violence would follow the execution.

One of the arguments presented was that Smith had been shown impartiality as another man proved guilty of murdering his wife at the same time Smith was condemned was sentenced to only 10 years imprisonment.

CITY MAY BUILD

COLUMBUS — The state supreme court today affirmed action of the Summit-co court of appeals in refusing Cornelius Mulcahy an injunction seeking to prevent the city of Akron from entering into a contract with the Morgan Construction Co to build a new city hall Under the high court's decision the way is cleared for construction of the city hall.

CITY MAY PREVENT SALE OF FIRE ARMS

LORAIN — Legislation preventing the sale of firearms in Lorain will be introduced in city council at its next meeting. Special efforts to rush this measure thru as an emergency ordinance will be made as a result of recent testimony of Cleveland Chinese on trial in that city who stated he purchased 13 guns in Lorain.

Police authorities believe the only way to stop "gun toting" would be by state or federal statute.

KILLED BY CURRENT

PORTSMOUTH — When he came into contact with a high tension electrical wire while erecting a radio aerial, Theodore Dunham, 23, was electrocuted.

So he stuck it out in Topeka, getting all the education the public schools there offered and learning still more by a period of reporting on the North Topeka Times.

In this job he developed his contacts with people—a thing which was later to prove most valuable to him in politics. He came to know almost every man, woman and child in Shawnee county.

In '79, when 19 years of age, the district court conferred the rights of majority upon him. So he became "his own man" at 19 instead of 21. In that same year he began the study of law with A. H. Case in Topeka. He was admitted to practice in '81 and in '84 made his first venture in politics, getting himself elected county prosecutor.

In this office, which he held for two terms, he made a record seldom equaled. He lost but three cases his first year, only one the second and none at all in his third and fourth years.

FIRST IN HOUSE

Next came Congress. First as representative, then as senator, he has served a total of 26 years in Washington—10 in the House and 16 in the Senate. In the House—perhaps because he had learned how to wield one as a jockey—he was assistant "whip." On coming to the Senate he was made assistant to Murray Crane of Massachusetts, then whip, and succeeded to the position of whip when Crane retired in 1911.

That position he held thruout the rest of his senatorial career until advanced to the Republican leadership following the death of Senator Lodge.

A taciturn, self-contained individual is Curtis, as befits his Indian ancestry. Swarthy of skin, powerful of build, with a square jaw and a firm hand, he looks able to lead by sheer force should persuasion fail.

In person and personality he is the exact opposite of the leader he succeeds.

But then Lodge could only trace his Americanism back to the Mayflower. Curtis' folks were here some centuries before that!

She Threw Away Calomel and took Beecham's Pills

"I felt so miserable," said the young woman cashier in a fashionable New Jersey hotel. "A friend suggested calomel and I was about to take it.

"Another friend noticed the calomel on my desk and cautioned me against it. She said her sister took calomel and ate some fruit and the combination 'salivated' her—loosened some of her teeth and made her very sick.

"Fearing that my stomach might be in an acid condition, I bought a 25c box of Beecham's Pills and took a dose. The next day I felt fine and I haven't needed anything during the three weeks since.

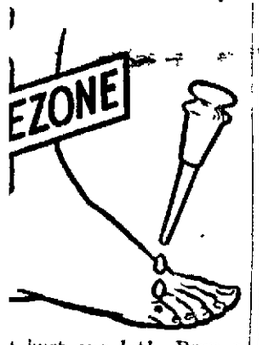

"I wouldn't take anything but Beecham's now. Some of the other girls here take Beecham's and all say they are wonderful."

SIDNEY LANDON ON COURSE

Well Known Impersonator to Be School Attraction

There is a man in Elmira, New York, who claims that Sidney Landon, the impersonator, who is to be seen on the South and Central high school lyceum courses Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in "Great Literary Men," overlooked one detail in his portrayal of Mark Twain. This unusual criticism came about when Landon had this man in his audience a short time ago.

"Many of us who heard you," the critic said, "knew Mark Twain so well that when you impersonated him it was hard to believe that he was not actually with us But we knew that it was not the original Mark when you failed to do the one last natural thing—pass around the cigars That was one of Mark's favorite customs"

When he appears here Landon will impersonate such literary men as Mark Twain, Victor Hugo, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, William Thackery, Alfred Tennyson and Rudyard Kipling

Landon will appear on the South course Tuesday evening and on the Central course Wednesday evening Both presentations will be made at Central high school auditorium starting at 8 p m.

Two police officials and nine Weehawken patrolmen have been indicted for misconduct in office

OBITUARY

In memory of Joseph Mauch, who passed away Nov. 25, 1923.
One year ago today dearest father, thou has left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel,
But the Lord has not bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal,
Farewell father, we have laid you
In your low and silent bed;
But soon again we hope to meet you
Where no farewell tears are shed

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble,

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr Kilmer & Co, Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper. adv

This Nurse Just Couldn't Stop Coughing

Specialists Didn't Help

It takes more than ordinary sweet, syrupy cough mixtures to stop a stubborn cought that persists in hanging on.

For slight ordinary coughs, almost any decent cought syrup will do, but if you have one of those tough ones that won't yield to common remedies and often keeps you awake at night then your one best bet is Bronchuline Emulsion

Often one-half bottle forces the most stubborn cough to yield and you are better almost before you know it.

There is no sugar, chloroform or dope in Bronchuline Emulsion, it's a wonderful medicine for people who are getting over a heavy cold or an attack of Flu.

A New York nurse just couldn't stop coughing even after consulting specialists yet one half bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion did stop it—completely.

Ask Green's Public drug store or any good dealer fora bottle—often three or four doses will stop an ordinary cough. adv

Captain Blood Is Popular With Entrants In Contest

What sea story fired your imagination the most?

Was it Captain Blood, the great tale of the Spanish Main? Was it another of Sabatini's wonderful novels or was it some other story?

Letters received by the Contest Editor in the competition for $25 in prizes in the contest "What is the Greatest Sea Story Ever Written," shows that Captain Blood is leading but that several other popular books are a close second

It will perhaps be necessary for many to see "Captain Blood" when it appears as a motion picture at the Lyric theatre Friday if they are to be perfectly satisfied regarding their decision one way or another.

This is a story of slaves on West Indies plantations and of pirates on the high seas It also is a love story of unusual worth Readers of The Lima News will remember it as one of the greatest serial stories ever published by the newspaper

Yet, another story may be chosen as the best for it is the short letter setting forth the high points of the fevorite that determines who will win the awards of $12.50, $7.50 and $5 offered for the three best letters.

But two days remain. All letters must be in the hands of the Contest Editor, The Lima News, before 4 p. m., Thursday in order that the results may be announced Friday There is a chance for everyone and it only takes a minute to write.

Send in your letter today.

LAW IS OBEYED

Delphos Officials Deny Acts Were Illegal

DELPHOS — Further attention given to teh report of State Examiner C. F. Risser, of the city's books and police court records Tuesday rveaied that remittances marked illegal by Risser were in perefte harmony with the state law at the time they were made according to Mayor G. N. LeaSure, and Chief of Police Clark Thompson.

That it was permissible to assess a $1,000 liquor fine for publication, and then remit $900 of the sum total in the yars 1921-22, is the explanation made by Thompson. Since then, however, a law has been enacted forbidding the remittance of any part of a liquor fine.

MELL SERVICES ARE HELD

Late Pastor is Laid to Rest at Woodlawn

CALLED BY DEATH SUNDAY

Gave His Life in Service to Humanity

Funeral services for the late Rev. Geo. R. Mell were held at 2 p. m. at the First Christian church. Interment was at Woodlawn.

Geo. R. Mell, D. D., of Lima, who has had a long and active career as an educator, minister of the Christian church, farmer and business man, passed to his last reward at his home, 706 S. Broadway, Dec. 7, at 9 a. m.

He was the son of John C. and Catherine Mell, born on a farm west of Cairo. He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, one brother, P. T. Mell, and a host of relatives and friends.

He has been a worker all his life and has sought to the limit of his strength and opportunity to give a worthy service as he passed thru the world.

From the time he was ordained, Oct. 9, 1881, he was in active church work until the time he retired about a year ago. His individual church membership has been with the West Cairo Christian church for 56 years.

Mr. Mell's creed thru his life has been as follows: "Give me, O, Lord, that quietness of heart which makes the most of labor and of rest. Save me from passionate excitement, petulant fretfulness and idle fear, keeping one ever in the restful presence of Thy love. Teach me to be alert and wise in all responsibilities, without hurry and without neglect. Tame Thou, and rule my tongue that I may not transgress Thy law of love. When others censure, may I seek Thine image in each fellow man, judging with charity as one who shall be judged. Banish envy from my thought and hatred from my lips.

"Help me to be content amidst the strife of tongues, with my unspoken thought. When anxious cares threaten my peace help me to run to Thee, that I may find rest and be made strong for calm endurance, and for valiant service. In the name of Jesus Christ, my Lord. Amen."

RATE PROTESTS ARE FEW

Defense of city legislators in that the city commission has made an exhaustive investigation of the gas company to determine if the return sought is excessive of the property valuation was made by Commissioner Harold Cunningham, who told of the investigation of state public utilities commission engineers upon request of the city.

When the $3,500,000 gas merger was proposed, including companies in Lima, Wapakoneta, Celina and St. Marys, Engineer T. D. Pierce, of Columbus, assisted by a corps of engineers, at request of the city commission, checked up the property of Lima Natural Gas Co. and Lima Gas Light Co. and made a preliminary report to city commission and a detailed report to Columbus.

"The city has kept in touch with the situation from the first and is now awaiting word from Columbus," Cunningham stated. "The commission is grateful for the sentiments of the public and will be guided by such expressions."

FIGHT REVIEWED

Need for deep consideration of the gas problems was sounded by Commissioner Ellis Jones, who reviewed the "fight of 1921-1922," showing how the city not only lost the fight but was compelled to pay a higher rate in the end.

"Intimations of a higher rate have been made by the West Ohio Gas Co. in case expensive court action results and if we take the initiative we may be compelled to pay $1.75 for gas instead of the proposed rate," Jones said. "I went thru the last fight and devoted nearly two years in the interest of the people, but I am convinced that another fight would be not only useless but costly."

While Commissioner John Rankin did not openly express his sentiments his several remarks intimated that he is willing to enter a protest.

Mayor Earl C. Moyer was silent on the question, claiming that he wants to get the opinion of the public before expressing his sentiments.

Police At Dances

City officials have decreed that police officers in uniform must be present at all public dances. This step is taken to prevent recurrence of trouble at some halls, the city manager being present at the latest.

The order is sensible and reasonable. It is not possible to handpick a gathering at a public dance and hip pocket flasks, so popular nowadays, cannot be banned, or at least they are not. Drinking and dancing have not mixed without trouble, even from the early days, and the brand of booze the young sheiks are imbibing now is not conducive altogether to peace and good will.

Proprietors of dance halls should not oppose the order; they should fall in line and co-operate for at best they are engaged in what many please to term a hazardous business—for those who attend. This is one sort of regulation the public will stamp with approval and the action of officials undoubtedly will have a restraining influence on places where there is a tendency toward rowdyism and the presence of officers at even the most elite of the public dancing halls will not detract from the popularity of the places.

Paying Pensions

Few persons ever give thought to the vast sums that Uncle Sam pays to veterans of wars in the form of pensions. It's a theme that the average person doesn't care to think about, since worrying about it won't cut down the total.

Since 1790 there has been paid to veterans of all wars save the World War, $6,838,182,860. Of this total $6,427,106,586 was on account of the Civil War. For the War of the Revolution the government has paid $70,000,000 in pensions; for the war with Mexico, $56,545,364; war with Spain, $126,673,359. Pensions paid Indian fighters and their widows amounted to $25,640,832, and for the War of 1812, $46,145,923.

However, startling as these figures appear, they represent only a small part of the cost of the conflicts mentioned. If one reckons the cost of liberty in dollars and cents, it is expensive, but it is cheap to measure the nation's gratitude by the total of $6,838,182,860, which covers the Republic's pension bill for 134 years.

It is also true that quite often more fuss is made over the payment of pensions to men who fought for, and won all we have, than is justified by the circumstances.

Those who are inclined to worry about the payment of pensions, should also remember that the bill is divided among 110 millions of people, and that nobody is hurt seriously, financially.

Tempting Vic

Just now the outlook is very favorable for a season of contention in Ohio's legislative halls early in 1925 over the moot question of whether the existing primary election laws are to be disturbed, or whether we'll continue to rock along in the same old way we've been going for more than a decade, in the choosing of candidates for multitudinous offices, in what we term the "popular primary" way.

Getting one's ear to the ground, one is soon convinced that it isn't so popular after all—this thing of placing on the election tickets the names of men—and women—who are able, somehow, to get the greatest number of votes in a previous primary election. When the system was adopted, it was generally believed that better material would be chosen for the final tests; that control would be taken out of the hands of party "bosses," and the people would really and truly rule.

But we are far from perfection in this regard. It is the view of many persons that instead of getting better candidates as a whole, we are served with more mediocre timber. While the Democratic party stands sponsor for the primary, it cannot be denied that many within the ranks of that organization share the opinion of Republican leaders that at least a pre-primary convention should be legalized. In fact, the last Republican state platform declared for it, while the Democratic platform inveighed against it.

But here is where temptation is to be laid at the door of Governor Vic Donahey. Naturally, he would like to have his appointments confirmed by the senate, Republican by a vast majority. It is understood the leaders are ready to "play ball," but the price to be paid is approval by the governor of a pre-primary law, or at least that refrain from vetoing such a measure. It's going to be interesting to watch Governor Donahey in such a test.

Roasting The Movies

Robert Mantell, the well-known actor, is out with the statement that, "for a world that is drunk with the movies, the only sobering draught can be Shakespeare." And, criticizing the movies, he invites the bitter and crushing rejoinder of that intellectual queen of the screen who identified another and quite as able critic, some time ago, as "a big piece of cheese."

Mr. Mantell, of course, is not a cheese or any part thereof, but he is wrong. The silver sheet is not a poison, nor yet a disease, and as a consequence does not need an antidote or physic. It is raw material, yes, and it needs the refining agencies of smelters, or filtration plants, or something like that. We may admire, relish and patronize Shakespeare, but that will not improve the movies, which have come to stay.

It may be true, as the great actor avers, that the radio and the movies are making children ignorant, but the blame rests on the misapplication or prostitution of them rather than on the things—the inventions—themselves.

The movies were certainly bad enough to start with, but they have improved somewhat. One of their worst relationships now is the publicity men who feel called on to indicate to the public that a really decent production is not decent at all, their error being that that is the way to attract a crowd.

The movies have not taught us much, it is admitted, and they have not appealed in a very large degree to intelligence or right thinking but they have given us what we have been willing to accept.

If we insist on something better—something that is educative as well as attractive—they will be compelled to respond.

We cannot reform them by lambasting them or leaving them alone, except in a very small degree. We cannot offset them by the very small and indifferent amount of Shakespeare we have at our disposal. We can only give them tone by showing our appreciation of that very commendable attribute. It is up to us.

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

—By DR. WILLIAM BRADY—

TAKE A TOMATO HOME TO BABY

A vitamin which is essential for normal digestion and normal functioning of the bowel and probably also for normal growth and development of the infant, is present in breast milk. The same vitamin is present in smaller quantity in cow's milk. Boiling the milk diminishes the vitamin content. Pasteurization diminishes the vitamin content. Prolonged use of boiled or pasteurized milk leads to scurvy. So when thru somebody's shortsightedness or incapacity an infant is done out of his birthright and sentenced to be "hand raised," the baby is out of luck if he gets anything less than pure raw milk, be it certified milk or just neighbor's milk. Certified milk, if it is obtainable, is the next best thing to palm off on the baby that has been cheated out of mother's milk. When certified milk can't be had, then neighbor's milk is generally preferable to milkman's milk, if you have a neighbor who keeps a cow and sells some of the milk to a few preferred customers. We must assume that the neighbor is a cleanly person and the neighbor's cow is healthy.

But only a few fortunate people living in small villages or in the country can have neighbor's milk delivered immediately after milking. The great majority of town people have to put up with an indifferent market milk which is pasteurized some hours after the milking and delivered some hours after that. The pasteurization—heating the milk up to 140 degrees F. (a par boiling) for 20 minutes is for the purpose of killing off the germs of tuberculosis or other disease germs which may be in market milk. The tuberculosis germs come, as a rule, from a tuberculosis cow. Other germs may come from a diseased cow, such as the dangerous streptococcus of septic sore throat, outbreaks of which have been traced to inflammation of the cow's udder in several instances. Then there is a considerable chance for market milk to be contaminated or polluted en route by handlers, say with typhoid bacilli or diphtheria bacilli; pasteurization is necessary to kill off these germs in the market milk.

But boiling or pasteurization diminishes the vitamin content of milk, so that it becomes necessary, when an infant is fed with boiled or pasteurized milk, to supplement the diet with fresh fruit juice or tomato juice, which is rich in the vitamin required. Orange juice is most commonly employed, beginning with a daily 10 drops, given in a few spoonfuls of water that has been boiled and cooled, preferable an hour after a milk feeding, when the baby is 3 or 4 weeks old. This amount should be gradually increased until the baby takes two or three tablespoonfuls of the orange juice daily at the age of six months.

Either fresh tomato juice or the juice of canned tomato (factory canned, vacuum process, not home canned) is quite as satisfactory as orange juice for this purpose. Peach juice, cherry juice, grape juice, currant juice, berry juice, or pineapple juice may be substituted for part or all of the time, the juice of fresh fruit only. A teaspoonful or two of any such fruit juice, or fresh apple juice, apricot juice or pear juice should be given every bottle baby every day at the age of 3 months. The use of small quantities of friut juice is sometimes beneficial even for breast fed infants, tho as a rule infants raised on Old Doctor Nature's Baby food require no supplementary feeding.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Oh, Oh, Uriah

I am 27 years old and in good health except that my hands are wet all the time from perspiration—just my hands, and nowhere else. It is embarrassing. (C. E. C.)

Answer—If you do not object to a temporary yellowish stain of the palms, mop them twice daily for a week with a 5 per cent solution of chromic acid in water—about 24 grains of the chromic acid in an ounce of water, and allow this to dry on the palms. If the stain is an objection, then perhaps the next best bet is a daily application for a week or 10 days of a 4 per cent solution of formaldehyde—dilute the standard formalin (Formaldehyde Solution) with nine parts of water. In some cases the best remedy is sufficient daily vigorous exercise to produce free sweating. Hyperhydrosis is one name for the excessive sweating, and the Dickens of it is Uriah Heep trouble, but neither name means anything really.

The Superheterodyne

Kindly advise me on the use of idoine for fat reducing purposes. (LILLIAN BLUE.)

Answer—Better leave such treatment to the judgment of your physician.

Raw Oatmeal

Is it harmful to the stomach in any way, to eat raw oatmeal with a pinch of salt I have a hankering for it. (O. D. W.)

Answer—The oatmeal is all right, but better not eat too much salt.

All the clever things she'll do,
Wish I could repeat today
All the funny things she'll say,
And I wish that you could see
Her perform for Bud and me,
But you'll never see her show,
For when people come to call
Janet won't show off at all.

She'll turn somersaults and race
Madly up and down the place,
Day by day she'll tell us how
Grandma's kitty says "meow!"
What a dog says, and the things
Santa Claus at Christmas brings,
She will sing a little song.
Dance for us the whole day long,
But when strangers are around
Janet will not make a sound.

Vain it is for us to say
All she does from day to day,
None save us will never know
Why we rave about her so,
For when others come she stands
Dumbly looking at her hands,
Hangs her head or runs away
And won't have a word to say.
Stubborn? Yes, for one so small,
Janet won't show off at all!

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BINGHAM GIVEN NEW JOB

Manager is Named Temporary Building Inspector

Review of the building code toward adoption of the measure to function in conjunction with the zoning law looms for the future in Lima with the appointment Monday night of City Manager C. A. Bingham as building inspector.

Under the temporary appointment the city manager gains authority to inspect all building plans before license permits are issued at the city hall, reserving the right to reject or issue permits at his discretion, basing his action on the elimination of fire hazards and true valuation entered along with the permit request.

Naming of Manager Bingham results from state warning issued by the industrial relations commission to cities on inspection by the building inspector in each city of plans and specifications for all structures larger than a one or two family house, or inspection by the state department of such specifications.

Agitation for a building code in Lima is two years old and is endorsed by Manager Bingham. It has come before commission and is now on file awaiting future action which is expected to culminate as a result of the state warning. The measure in its scope provided for elimination of fire hazards and establishes a drastic code for uniform building on a plan of safety.

SPRINGFIELD — Farmers who use their motor trucks to haul livestock for neighbors and others doing dull seasons, must obtain state license. This warning was issued today by local magistrates, who declared their intentions of starting a drive to see that the state regulations are enforced. Many farmers, it is said, have been using their trucks occasionally to do such hauling, but have not obtained the required licenses.

SAYS CASTOR OIL HAS REFORMED

Has Disguised Its Vileness and Now Appears as a Delicious Chocolate Candy.

Castor oil is now good—it has reformed and men, women and children are glad to welcome it to their home.

Long has nauseating castor oil been a trouble maker in the home—it has terrified children and disgusted grown-ups—it has caused millions of tears to flow and many a good child to hate its loving mother.

But that's all over now, as any druggist will tell you, for a mighty clever chemist has put pure castor oil in delicious chocolate candies called Kastor Jems, and now when castor oil is needed a child just eats a delightful chocolate candy—an adult eats two.

That's all there is to it—and it gives results because it is pure castor oil—but you can't taste it—or smell it—just like eating real good chocolate candy. Large box 50 cents. Ask for Kastor Jems—they are wonderful. Hunters drug stores, Green's Public drug store are selling lots of them. adv.

NO MORE CASTOR OIL FOR THE CHILDREN

Give Them Haley's Magnesia-Oil

Mothers, there's an easy way now to correct that sour stomach, and to relieve the effect of something that has "disagreed" with the youngsters. Simply give them a teaspoonful or more of Haley's Magnesia-Oil.

It has no oily taste—can be mixed with milk and given children without their knowledge—and it's harmless. A big dose for emergencies is perfectly safe and promptly effective. There is no griping or other unpleasant effect. Haley's Magnesia-Oil is simply milk of magnesia and mineral oil combined.

The oil carries the magnesia straight to the lower bowel, where most "stomach trouble" originates. The milk of magnesia neutralizes the acids and the mineral oil lubricates and aids nature quickly to remove the cause of the trouble. Both work together.

If your druggist can't supply Haley's Magnesia-Oil we will mail a bottle postpaid on receipt of price. Trial size, 35c; family size, $1. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:
I am coming to you for your best advice. I am a girl fifteen. Everywhere my father and mother goes, I always have to tag along. I don't have to but I don't like to stay at home alone. I never ask to go anywhere, but the other night I asked to go to a show. They told me I was too young to go out alone. Miss Smart, don't you think I am old enough to take care of myself? I will be 16 and I never have any fun, and I don't suppose I will for awhile. All of my friends go out and have a good time and always invite me to go along but I never can. Don't you think they ought to let me go once in a while? BONNIE.

Bonnie, that is a matter which must be decided by your parents. Young people do begin to go out at an early age now, but I personally believe it is for the best to be accompanied by grown ups when you go out in the evening. Don't feel badly because when you have finished school your good times will begin and in the meantime you will have acquired your education in an uninterrupted manner. There are no detraction of thoughts. You could not choose any better company than that of your parents and if they take you to the theatre, why should you want to go to a show with young people, unchaperoned.

* * *

Dear Miss Smart:
When should a woman begin to use cold cream to prevent wrinkles? ISOBEL.

As soon as her skin feels dry or when she notices that there is a drawn look at the corners of her eyes. This is the place where lines first show themselves. Never use a cream while the natural oil is still in the skin.

* * *

Dear Miss Smart:
I am in an embarrassing situation. I am deeply in love with a fellow who tells me he loves me, wants to kiss me, but never speaks of marriage. How can I make him see that he ought to talk about marrying before there's lovemaking" G. G.

You can't make him see it if he doesn't want to. So don't let him treat you lightly, and make love to you before he has declared himself. If he really loves you, the thought of marriage will presently occur to him.

* * *

Dear Miss Smart:
The man I am engaged to lives a hundred miles away. I rarely see him and I often go out with other men. Isn't this perfectly all right? LOTTIE LEE.

If your fiance says it is, I suppose it is. But I can't understand an engaged girl being anything but bored with other men than the one she's in love with and is going to marry.

PARLIAMENT OPENED BY ENGLISH KING

LONDON —King George opened parliament in state Tuesday with a speech from the throne full of pronouncements on foreign and domestic affairs.

Beginning with the declaration that British relations with foreign powers continued friendly, the king pointed out that Egypt had accepted Great Britain's demands for redress, following the campaign of hostility against British interests in Egypt and the Sudan culminating in the murder of the sirdar.

The king said the government was unable to recommend parliamentary consideration of the Soviet treaties, but he desired that "normal intercourse between the two countries shall not be interrupted." He said the government proposed to proceed with the naval base at Singapore.

OIL LEAK

COLDWATER — (Special) — About 500 gallons of oil leaked away when a leak was discovered in the lines east of town owned by The Buckeye Pipe Line Co. After workmen had repaired the leak the oil that had run out was burned and town residents seeing the clouds of dense black smoke thought a great fire was raging near the east corporation limits. Farmers living in the vicinity of the leak scooped up several barrels for use in disinfecting their poultry houses.

"Oh-ho!" cried the planter. "It's like that, is it?" He tapped the ashes from his pipe. "I can't say I altogether approve of this air of funeral gloom which seems to be part of your stock in trade this morning; but I'm going to confess to a feeling of deepest curiosity. Let's have the yarn, Fellowes."

"The devil you know," said the assistant enigmatically, "is a damn sight better than the devil you don't!"

"Admitted, old son! What then?"

"Well," pursued the other, brightening, "you remember Jacobson?"

"Yep! He's dead."

"You made a hell of a mess of that affair, Corrigan. It's your confounded respect for the opposite sex. You're essentially a man's man. Women get you cold every time!"

Corrigan grinned.

"I like that!" he protested amiably. "D'you recollect a certain Enid Paterson? If I remember rightly, I saw you sitting uncommonly close to that lady on your veranda steps at sundown one evening; the next time I caught you together—you were preventing her, from burgling my safe with a pretty useful-looking automatic!"

Fellowes flushed.

"Never mind Enid Paterson!" he retorted irritably. "I insisted on handing her over to justice; but you let the woman I'm talking about go. All the thanks you're likely to get for that—is a knife in your back when you're least expecting it!"

"What woman?" asked Corrigan quietly.

"That Tamil witch — as black as a crow—who made drugged cigarets for Jacobson!"

Corrigan whistled softly.

"You've seen her about again?"

Fellowes nodded.

"When I said my pony was crocked—I lied. You remember my telling you that there were places where one couldn't take a pony? Well, I've been in some pretty low sorts of haunts lately —on your account. I spent the best part of last night pretending to smoke chandu—and listening."

His eyes came slowly round to Corrigan's. The great man appeared to be chuckling inwardly. Fellowes choked down the gloom that consumed him and laughed merrily, in spite of himself.

"Man alive!" he shouted. "I'm telling you you're in mortal danger!"

"I'm not in the least bit surprised," said Corrigan. "I've been in it ever since I was born!" He rose slowly to his feet and reached out for the bridle. "Come and have lunch with me. We'll talk it over."

They moved off down a winding path, making for where Corrigan's squat bungalow showed just over the top of the opposite ridge.

A tall Sikh watchman was waiting in the shelter of the house Corrigan handed him the reins and relieved him of a bag of mail that had come by the morning train from Jesselton.

"Wait," he said briefly, and mounted the steps, followed by Fellowes.

"Yah, Tuan."

As Corrigan crossed to a chair he kicked against a sack deposited rather carelessly in the center of the floor.

"Who put this here?" he shouted in Malay.

"A woman, Tuan," replied the Sikh. "It was just after you had gone out."

Corrigan grunted and unlocked the bag. His eye ran over the correspondence, tossing the rolls of newspapers on to a cane chair.

"Anything for me, by any chance?" inquired Fellowes.

"A couple." He handed them over and, leaning against the table, opened one that was addressed to him in a bold, feminine hand.

The assistant thrust his contribution into the side pocket of his jacket and leaned on the rail.

"What sort of woman left this beranj for the Tuan-Besar?" he asked of the man who held the pony.

"I saw her as I came up the slope, Tuan. She came from the back of the house, carrying the sack. As I looked, trying to see who she was, I saw her go up the steps—and come down without the sack. When I reached the house—she had disappeared among the trees, like a shadow. She brought something to the Tuan-Besar—so I did not trouble further. If she had taken something away, it would have been different!"

His smile revealed a row of perfect teeth, white as ivory.

"But what was she like?" insisted Fellowes. "Was she one it on the rail, Fellowes cut the

The watchman shook his head.

"She was a stranger to me, Tuan. She appeared to be quite black, not brown like the Dusun women. She moved rapidly, and when she carried the sack, her head was turned from me; but I think she was a Tamil girl."

Corrigan looked suddenly up.

"What's that?" he demanded sharply.

"It was a Tamil woman who brought the cocoanuts," replied the Sikh.

Fellowes raised his brows.

Corrigan fixed the watchman's eyes with his own.

"In future, Watchman No. 1," he said, you will detain all women who are seen wandering in the Kabun. The Tuan-Besar has no truck with native women, Tahu?"

The watchman saluted.

Fellowes was stooping over the sack.

"Seems to be uncommonly well tied," he announced. He felt in his pocket and produced a pruning knife he habitually carried.

"Stop a moment," said Corrigan in a low voice. "I've seen things like this before. You see, Fellowes, a present usually signifies friendship. Now, I've no friends of that sort. If a native contractor feels inclined to bestow gifts, he comes with them himself — and there's the usual pomp and ceremony thrown in. All things considered, we'll open it ouside."

He picked up the parcel by the neck and one corner and balanced it on teh rail. Fellowes cut the leather thong that secured the opening, and a succession of heavy objects fell to the sofe earth below.

"Just cocoanuts!" he said, a puzzled look in his eyes.

Holding the sack by both bottom corners, Corrigan shook it smartly.

Something fell, writhing, on to the heap. The watchman jumped back a couple of feet.

TELEPHONE CONVERSATION BETWEEN KARL WHITNEY AND MDS. ALICE HAMILTON

"Good morning, Mother Hamilton. This is Karl. How do you feel this morning "

"I am not very well, Karl. Alice is not ill, is she?"

"No, mother, I do not think she is really ill but she has become very melancholy. She doesn't seem to be interested in anything. She hasn't spoken unless she has been spoken to since we left your home and come over here to mine. Will you come and see her if I come over after you? Perhaps you can cheer her up a little."

"Do you think, Karl, that she is grieving for her father?"

"No, she doesn't seem to be grieving at all. Just not interested."

"I'll be right over, Karl, my boy. Leslie is going out and she can drive me over in her roadster. Mrs. Atherton and the young woman that Leslie has engaged as a governess for little Jack are coming in this morning and Leslie is going down to meet them."

"I hate to speak of it, mother dear, but if Leslie brings you over, please tell her not to come in. Poor Alice is so unhappy and so repentant for what she has done to Leslie that I am afraid that if she comes face to face with her it will make her more morose and melancholy."

"Karl would like me to come over and stay a few days with you?"

"Oh, I'd be delighted. You see in Alice's peculiar state of mind I do not dare to suggest to her that she is ill enough to have a nurse and yet I do not want to leave her alone for a moment. You'll be just the one. You need not say that you are coming over to take care of her. Just tell her that your have come because you want a change yourself."

"All right, Karl. Leslie will bring me over. You will be watching at the door. She will not come in. Goodby."

Telephone Conversation Between Mrs. Alice Hamilton and Leslie Prescott.

"Leslie, Leslie, is this you?"

"Yes, mother."

"How did you know I was here?"

"The butler told me. I didn't know you had left the house. I've got to get over to Karl and Alice's immediately. Can you come back and take me?"

"Of course I can, mother dear. What is the matter?"

"I don't know, Leslie, but Karl just told me over the phone that Alice is not herself at all. I am awfully worried "

"Get on your things, mother, and I'll be there by the time you are ready. I have got to get down to the station to meet Sally Atherton, you know."

"Hurry, please hurry, dear, something tells me that—"

"Is this Independent 576?"

"Yes! But I'm using the wire."

"Madame, this is Central. Your son-in-law wants to speak to you."

"Mother, Mother Hamilton, is it you?"

"Yes, Karl."

"Come, come quick. Alice is dead!"

Don't Let High Blood Pressure Shorten Your Life

How To Stop It—Read This

It may surprise you to know high blood pressure is so serious that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All because it shortens life.

High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms take hold, you do not know it. They are head pains, flushed face, hot flashes, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, and nervousness.

Only a purely vegetable medicine like Norma that drives out the waste matter which clogs the system and forces the heart to do extra work can reduce high blood pressure. Often one bottle of Norma will bring reduction enough to stop the symptoms which distress and worry you.

Norma is a physician's prescription. It worked so wonderfully in his personal practice that it has now been placed in drug stores so that people everywhere can obtain it. Check the uncertainty of high blood pressure by reducing it with Norma.

LEAGUE MAGNATES GATHER FOR MOMENTOUS SESSION

Gibbons-Norfolk Bout Shows Intense Interest Among Boxing Fans; Gibbons Favorite

Johnson May Get Hard Spanking

NEW YORK — Magnates of the National league met at the Waldorf hotel today in the first of three sessions in which the major league baseball circuits will participate. The American meeting is set for tomorrow and a joint session follows on Thursday.

From today's meeting are expected to come resolutions expresing confidence in the administration of Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who may be unable to attend the session on account of the illness of his wife. It is also predicted that the Heydler organization will issue bitter criticisms of recent actions of B. B. Johnson, American league president.

It is predicted that President Heydler will be re-elected for five years.

The National league magnates are said to contend that the American league head has broken faith with the agreement made at the time of Landis' appointment which pledged the signers "loyally to support the commissioner in his important and difficult task and we assure him that each of us will acquiesce in his decisions, even when we believe them mistaken, and that we will not discredit the sport by public criticisms of him or of one another."

Plans for the National league's observance of its semi-centennial, as drawn up by the Golden Jubilee committee comprising Charles H Ebbets, Christy Mathewson, William Veeck and Barney Dreyfuss, call for celebrations during next year's pennant race with a banquet on the actual anniversary day. The report will be presented to the league meeting for action.

Out of the reports of imminent player trades comes one definite statement, broadcast on the arrival of President Sam Breadon of the Cardinals. Rogers Hornsby, hitting marvel, will not be marketed under any circumstances.

Several clubs in both leagues, however, are flaunting bait and appear to be casting their hooks into New York pools for the most part. Here are the leading offers:

Luque is regarded as the only marketing material Cincinnati has to offer in its quest for a first baseman to replace the late Jake Daubert, as Manager Jack Hendricks has balked at the mention of Eddie Roush in a trade for the youthful Bill Terry of the Giants. McGraw is reported to have said that he will not take Luque.

BY HENRY L. FARRELL.
By United Press

NEW YORK—Another swing to the jaw of Ban Johnson, leader of the anti-Landis force in baseball, is listed as a major item of business to be executed by the National League club owners at their annual meeting here today.

The National League will charge Johnson indirectly at least, with violation of a promise made when Commissioner Landis ascended the throne of baseball that all criticism of the commissioner or of any one connected with baseball should be voiced in a whisper behind locked doors. Johnson apparently forgot about the agreement when he was charging that Landis was all wrong in handling the Dolan-O'Connell scandal and that the New York Giants should be eased out of baseball.

With the exception of some few things that may come up about the recent Giant scandal, the annual meeting of the National League promises little excitement. There was talk some time ago that John A. Heydler, president, whose contract expires this year, would not be offered a new one. But he found several of the more influential club owners at his side with assurances that he would not only be hired again but that he would be given a raise in salary.

With the exception of Commissioner Landis, Johnson, Phil Ball, the owner of the St. Louis Browns and Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins all the baseball celebrities are here.

The commissioners wife is seriously ill and Ball and Robinson are also sick. Johnson is expected to arrive today. The board of directors met this morning and the regular league meeting is scheduled for this afternoon.

High School Fives Very Busy

Central high school basketball squad will be sent thru a hard scrimmage Tuesday evening in preparation for the game with Gomer here Friday night. Coach Young, with 20 men on the squad to look over, will watch his proteges carefully in order to pick a possible first team and point it for the Friday game.

The squad of 75 candidates at South will be cut to 25 Tuesday evening, Coach "Bill" Galberach said. By cutting down the squad to 25 men he will be able to spend more time with each individual candidate and by such action he hopes to have a "first" team selected within a week altho the first game is not until Jan. 9, when the locals meet Van Wert here.

PADDOCK OVERCAME SUPERSTITIONS; WON WHEN WORLD SAID THRU

BY JOE WILLIAMS

In breaking bread with notables of sports it is customary for the original reporter to ask this question:

"What was your biggest thrill?"

Any reporter who fails to ask this question violates item No. 176, section B, in Elemental Phases of Journalism, and is liable to immediate and definite expulsion from the order.

I asked Charley Paddock, fastest human, this question the other day and the Californian replied without hesitation, "The two races I won at Newark, N. J., last summer in the A. A. U. championships."

And there's a story to that.

Paddock came east from the coast in June this year with five sets of running shoes. One of them was a set of brand-new shoes which the sprinter hadn't even tried on. The old ones he had used in previous races and had run well in them.

PADDOCK SUPERSTITIOUS

Like most athletes Paddock has his superstitions. Jack Dempsey wore a red sweater the day he knocked out Willard. Dempsey never enters the ring without a red sweater. Cobb, and his three bats are a baseball tradition. Paddock and new shoes—well, he wasn't so sure of them.

In the Olympic trials at Cambridge, Mass., Paddock wore a pair of old ones, a pair with a history. In the same shoes he had once run the 100 unofficially in 9 2-5 seconds. Two watches caught him in that time. You know what happened at Cambridge. Paddock performed disappointingly. Wasn't even among the qualifiers, but the officials put him on the team anyway.

The scene shifts to Paris. The big tests are at hand. Paddock is in his room looking over a collection of running shoes. The new ones, with unused spikes that glisten, stand out. Paddock picks them up, cogitates, puts them back and finally decides on another old pair.

FELT HE WAS "ALL IN"

Paddock did no better in the Olympics than he had done in the American trials, and word came across the ocean that the most colorful figure known to the cinder track had run his last race.

"I felt that way about it myself," relates Paddock, "and when I got back to America I was ready to quit. The A. A. U. championships were on at Newark and I was urged to run. I entered more to be with the fellows than anything else.

"I picked up that pair of new shoes—the same pair I had carried from the coast to Cambridge, then to Paris and all the way back—and decided to wear them. You see I really didn't expect to do anything in the races. I had no superstitions. Any shoes would do.

"I was simply 'breaking in' a pair of new kicks. I don't know how to explain what followed. I never had a pair of shoes on my feet that felt so light and feathery. I knew when I bent over to toe the scratch that I was due for an eventful afternoon."

Eventful afternoon fully describes it. Paddock won the 100 in 9 3-5 seconds, equaling the world record, and the 220 in 20 4-5, equaling another world record, held exclusively by himself. Loren Murchison and Al Leconey, great sprinters, were decisively beaten.

Now if Paddock hadn't been superstitious and had worn the new kicks in the Olympic games—but that's something else again, as Mr. Kipling was wont to say.

Delphos Has Game With York

DELPHOS — Five blue and gold players of St. John high school, Hanf, Mueller, Hoft, Schmidt, and Elm, will put forth their best efforts to show the strong York cage quintet that they still retain a memory of the hard fought battle a year ago, and one of the best games of the season will be seen by a great throng of local fans at the St John's gymnasium, Tuesday night.

R. Elm, local mentor, characteristically quiet on the subject, of course, looks forward to a victory. With Hartleib and Gengle on the bench, to be used in any emergency, it is safe to predict a victory for St. John's. On Friday night, the St. John's team will journey for a return game with Grover Hill at the latter city.

K. OF C. PLAY WEDNESDAY

DELPHOS — Lee Grady, local manager of the Knights of Columbus basketball team, is optimistic regarding the coming game with the Spencerville Co. F, team of the American Legion, which will be played in the St. John's gym here Wednesday night. Sheibley, forward, and Imber, guard, who have been absent from the city during the last two games will be in the lineup against Spencerville.

The K. of C. team have been good losers, having been defeated twice, but the upward trend is scheduled to being in what is forecasted to be an interesting bout Wednesday night. Preliminaries have been scheduled for both the High school and the K. of C. games.

DELPHOS HI PLAYS

DELPHOS — Basketball season at Delphos high school was officially opened at the Jefferson-bldg. "box-car" gym Monday with the preliminaries to the organization of class teams of both Junior and Senior high school boys and girls.

It was announced by superintendent, E. W. Bell, that the varsity team, may practice at the St. John's gymnasium in order that they have a chance to develop unusually good material. The class tournament will not start until the fore part of February.

Industrials Play Games Wednesday

Second round in the Industrial Basketball league will be played at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday at the Y. M. C. A. with the following matches scheduled: Locomotive vs. Telephone; B & O. vs. Garford, and Solar vs. Nickel Plate.

Locomotive team will be weakened by the los of Roeder, star forward, and Johoske, guard, as they will play with the Lima Leads in a game at Kenton. Considering the showing of the Telephone team last week, however, the Locos should have little trouble in winning even without Roeder and Johoske.

Reports state that the B. & O. team is adding strength and will be out to win over the Garford, which team looks to be a winner this year. The Garford won over the Loco last week in a five minute overtime game. The team is made up of former South High foothal and basketball stars.

Nickel Plate will enter its game with the Solar also in a weakened condition as O'Connor and Benedict, center and forward, also will play with the Leads at Kenton. The Nickel Plates believe they will win regardless of the absence of two of their best players.

HITS 'EM LIKE RUTH

WILL STICK TO RING

HAS DECEPTIVE MOTION

Jack Bentley's pitching motion is the most deceptive part of his delivery.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

Being a Criticism of the Just and the Unjust in the World of Professional and Amateur Sports

BY HARRY BRADBURY

A golfing tourney booked by the Southern California Golfing club, in which there are $7,500 in stakes offered, should attract among the best professional golfers in the country. It will take place close to February first. The officials put up these rich prizes in the effort to get such players as Hagen, Kirkwood, Sarazan, Cruickshank, Farrell, Diegel, Barnes and Walker to compete. It is given out that Duncan and Mitchell, the two British stars, also McDonal Smith from across the big pond, have signified their intention of playing. The prize money is divided in such a manner that it will be distributed among the first five or six players. The winner getting $1,500, second $1,250, third, $1,000, fourth $750 and so on.

GIBBONS-NORFOLK BATTLE TUESDAY NIGHT

Tommy Gibbons should win his battle this Tuesday night against the black Baltimore boy, "Kid" Norfolk, altho he is as tough as a hickory limb. Norfolk has bested such boxers as Arthur Pelkey, Tom Crowler, John Lester, Tigers Flowers, Tut Jackson and a host of other good ones. But it must be remembered that Gib has a goodly share of hard ones to his credit. As a matter of fact he has defeated about all the good ones that would fight him. Just lately Jean Renault and Harry Wills found it convenient to spring sore thumbs and other minor injuries to keep away from the St. Paul terror. These boys are willing to fight Dempsey but respectfully decline any mixup with Gibbons. Why is this? The majority of the fight fanciers all over the country will tell you that they are crazy, but are they? Do they know their business or just what is the reason? Gibbons in his long career has three bouts chalked against him. Billie Miske thru a foul; Harry Greb on points and Jack Dempsey, I suppose on points, or rather referee's decision. In this battle there has been more silly excuses on the part of Dempsey than any other battle in the history of the American ring. That he wanted to give Gibbons a chance; that if he knocked him out some one would have shot him, which is the most sickening bunk that sane man ever uttered. I have often told how unfair Dempsey fought in this battle, and the unprejudiced public know how hard he tried to win. The truth of the matter is that Gibbons was by far the fastest and most expert boxer that Jack Dempsey ever faced, and this being the truth was at a disadvantage. If he tells the truth he must admit that he saw more boxing gloves in that battle than all the remainder of them put together. It is doubtful if Dempsey will ever fight him again. Let's wait and see if he does.

HARRY PAYNE WHITNEY LEADS

Harry Payne Whitney has earned nearly $250,000 in purses on the American turf this season. This amount leads all other racing establishments in North America. This is, of course, nowhere equal to the winnings of the Rancocas stables during the season of 1923—$428,948, which is a world's record, and it is true that it is far short of the purses won in 1907 by James R. Keene, which amounted to over $400,000 with such horses as Celt, Peter Pan, Colin, Ballot and Superman. But when it is taken into consideration that of the $10,000,000 or perhaps as much as $12,000,000 is the sum total of all the purses put up from ocean to ocean in a season, the sum of $250,000 is more than one man's share. The Keene earnings stood as a record for sixteen years, until Zev and other good horses of the Rancocas stable topped the amount by something like $28,000.

Speaking of horses, Tillie Brooke, the champion trotting mare with a record of 1:59, was among the 500 head put up at the recent "Old Glory" sale in New York City. She sold for $18,000, to the Walnut Hall stock farm. This price is almost a record one, especially when it is considered that this celebrated breeding establishment never races. She will go wholly for breeding purposes and will probably be mated to Guy Axworthy, who is the only sire of three two minute trotters.

Spencerville Spanked Leads

There is a heap of rejoicing over in Spencerville. They are still talking about the basketball game between their own team and the Lima Leads. Friday night. The Leads got a hard spanking and this was cause for the great hurrah; the Co. F won by a score of 25-38, During the last half Pohlman, Spencerville forward suffered a badly strained ankle and had to leave the floor, Hi Decker subbing. The best player of the Leads proved to be Benedict, but with all his good work he was unable to bring the Leads to the fore.

Wednesday evening the Spencerville team goes to Delphos where they will play the K. of O. team. Spencerville is yet undefeated and are repidly winning the non de plume of the "Invincibles."

RECORD FOR MAN O' WAR

Man o' War has fully demonstrated his qualities as a sire, for only one of his eight offsprings failed to win at least one race this season.

BEST CATCHING STAFF

Manager Bill Killefer of the Chicago Cubs says Hartnett and O'Farrell comprise the best catching staff in the majors.

Use News Want Ads

IN THE MIND'S EYE OF THE SPORTS EDITOR

How much more commendable to all fair minded folks are the actions of Tom Gibbons than Jack Dempsey. In his ambitions to reach the title of champion, Gibbons has sacrificed many thousands of dollars. Not so long ago, by the grace of no one knows who, Jack Dempsey condescended to fight this aspiring boxer; but not for sport's sake, mind you, but for $250,000 which a bunch of ardent sports way out in Shelby, Mont., offered.

* * *

These ardent devotees of boxing counted without their host; because of untruthful reports and many other causes calculated to kill what chances these westerners had to draw a crowd equal to the enormous sum of money they were forced to promise Dempsey before he could be induced to defend his championship. When Gibbons was notified of the circumstances and acquainted with the fact that he would get nothing for fighting Dempsey, he showed that excellent sportsmanship which is characteristic of every single real champion that has gone before—he fought him for nothing.

* * *

The money-grabbing tactics of Dempsey and his manager. Jack Kearns, in this now historical pugilistic affair are well known. But in boxing the champion just remember what Gibbons was forced to contend against. Dempsey wouldn't fight Gibbons unless every specification of the contract was made in his favor. The referee openly admitted that he was a close friend of the champion's. In spite of everything in favor of Dempsey and the unfair tactics contrary to the best precedents of the ring, he fought the St. Paul boy.

* * *

In spite of this he couldn't best Gibbons. The decision went against the St. Paul boxer, which was unjust. He came away determined to fight Dempsey again; has tried every honorable way to get another match, but the champion won't fight him. He fights tonight to clear away every obstacle toward the desired end, another bout with the arrogant, greedy moneymad champion. No white boxer likes to fight a colored man. Gibbons throws away every obstacle; black or white. None of the better white hopes would fight, he was forced to fight "Kid" Norfolk. Commendable—what say you?

* * *

But Gibbons is fair; takes chances that no other boxer will take. It is said that Tex Rickard almost fell off his chair when Tom agreed to box this black fighter. Rickard was desperate in trying to get someone on the bill for a Christmas fund for poor children of greater New York; a fund to fill the stockings of miserable little ones who dream of Santa Claus. A fund to make these little ones happy. IT'S TOM'S SPIRIT. THE SPIRIT OF CHARITY AND HIS BIG HEART. WHICH NATURE, DO YOU LIKE THE BEST: REALLY NOW. WHO WOULD YOU RATHER SEE CHAMPION. A BRAVE FELLOW LIKE TOM GIBBONS OR A MONEYMAD, SELFISH FELLOW, CLINGING TO HIS TITLE YEAR AFTER YEAR WITHOUT FIGHTING FOR IT?

St. Rose Cage Team Plays Friday

In the game on this week's basketball card the St. Rose cage team will meet the strong Columbus Aquinas five at the St. Rose gym Friday night.

The Rosarians will concentrate on offensive play in their drills this week as basket shooting was not up to standard in the game with Elida altho the locals easily won.

Coach Young's cagers are also looking forward to the contest with Delphos St. Jonh's at Delphose next Tuesdap. The Delphos aggregation went to the semi-finals in the tournament for the state championship at Columbus last year and is undefeated so far this season.

The preliminary to Friday's game, which brings together the St. Rose and Gomer Reserves, should prove interesting. The Rosarian reserves have won both their games as well as the varsity and intend to keep up their good record. They will also invade Delphos with the varsity next Tuesday to clash with the Best Evers, St. John's second team, in the preliminary.

SQUARED CIRCLE

PHILADELPHIA — Bobby Wolgast, Philadelphia bantamweight, and Pete Samiento, Philippine Islands, boxed a 10 round draw. Cuddy Demarco, Pittsburgh lightweight, won the decision from Dan Gartin, Philadelphia.

DETROIT — Clarence Rosen, Detroit bantam, won on a foul from Al Dundee, Mansfield, O., in the seventh of a 10 round bout. Red Herring, southern lightweight, won a 10 round decision over Al Wolgast, Cadillac, Mich. Jack Duffy, Toledo, won over Tony Ross, Detroit, in a six round bout.

Flowers Has Bout With Wilson

NEW YORK — Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, appears reasonably sure of collecting his full guarantee after his 15 round bout with Kid Norfouk, of Baltimore, the feature of the Christmas fund boxing card in the Madison Square Garden ring tonight for the public has shown an intense interest in the encounter and the box offices have been busy for several days.

Although it is not a championship bout, it is a stepping stone to a title clash, with Gibbons practically assured of a meeting with Jack Dempsey in the summer, if he wins decisively. If Norfolk wins, and the negro has assured his followers that he will, then he is entitled to consideration, for Gibbons already has demonstrated his ability to withstand the blows of the champion.

The St. Paul contender is a heavy favorite and is recognized as probably the most skillful boxer in his class. Norfolk depends upon a crushing attack.

In the semi-final the former middleweight champion. Johnny Wilson, meets Tiger Flowers, a negro who has left a string of knockouts in his wake. Boxing followers expect this bout to rival the main battle in action.

NEW YORK — (By United Press)—Tom Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, who went 15 rounds with Jack Dempsey, and Kid Norfolk, colored cruiser from Baltimore, meet in Madison Square Garden tonight in a 15 round bout for the Christmas fund.

Gibbons was ruling a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting this morning with plenty of money being offered at the short end in Harlem, where Norfolk has a great following.

Reports that bets of 5 to 1 were being offered on Gibbons aroused the curiosity of the New York Boxing commission and an investigation was started. It was found, however, that 2 to 1 was the best price offered.

TUNNEY WINS

NEW ORLEANS — Gene Tunney of New York easily retained his title of 'American light heavyweight champion last night by decisively defeating Jeff Smith of Bayonne, N. J., in an 15 round no-decision bout at the Coliseum arena here. Tunney accomplished twice what no other fighter had been able to do thru Smith's 14 years career in the ring—knock Smith to the canvas.

Smith, unable to cope with Tunney's speed, held an advantage in only the ninth and eleventh rounds. Two were even and eleven credited to Tunney.

NEW CORN PRICE IS REACHED

Weather Conditions Are Reflected in Advance

WHEAT IS IN SYMPATHY

Oats Also Show Slight Upwart Trend

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press)—Unabated drought in Argentina and wintry weather west of Chicago hoisted the corn market today to an all-around new record for high prices this season. Country offerings of corn here were again light. On the upturns in price, selling enlarged and the market reacted to below yesterday's finish but later rallied. The opening which ranged from 1-8 to 1 1-8c higher, May $1.27 to 1.27 1-4, was followed by numerous fluctuations within limits of about 2 cents.

Wheat sympathized with the corn market's advance. Owing to recent sharp gains, however, numerous traders operated for a setback. After opening at 1-8 to 3-4c higher, May $1.64 1-4 to 1.65 and July $1.45 3-8 to 1.45 1-2, wheat averaged lower as compared with the close yesterday.

Oats held nearly steady, starting unchanged to 3-8c off, May 62 3-4 to 62 7-8 cents, and later showing slight gains.

Higher quotations on hogs rallied the provision market from a temporary decline.

DAMAGE SUIT IS BEFORE JURY

$15,000 Asked for Injuries in Tractor Accident

Decision in a $15,000 damage action brought by C. E. Gossard, farmer, against J. T. Main and others for injuries suffered when a tractor wheel burst, hurling a large fragment of iron against him, will be in hands of a jury of eight men and four women before night.

The action was commenced in common pleas court Monday morning, Judge Fred C. Becker occupying the bench.

Gossard testified to buying the tractor from the defendants, under a guarantee that its speed would not exceed 750 revolutions an hour.

He hooked it onto a circular saw to cut fire wood. The engine speed mounted to 1,500 revolutions a minute, he said. So great was the velocity that a section of a fly wheel was broken and hurled against Gossard with the force of a cannon ball. He was knocked down and badly hurt, he told the court.

OTTAWA—Henry J. Deters, deputy county clerk of courts, who was the victim of thugs Sunday night, while driving in his coupe along the Kalida-Ottsville rd. beyond Kalida, has recovered consciousness, altho still in a comatose state at times.

Physicians who made an examination declare that Deters was thrown thru the windshield of his car, when it struck a telephone pole in the ditch along the roadside, after he was robbed. It required four stitches to close the wound in the scalp and five to close the wound in the throat. Deters narrowly averted severing of the jugular vein when he went thru the windshield.

CORN BORER AT WORK IN OHIO

Does Less Damage But Covers More Territory

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Altho the average increase in infestation of the European corn borer in Ohio this year was 15 per cent and the maximum 46 per cent, the damage to the corn crops was negligible, Prof. L. I. Huber in charge of European corn borer investigations at the Ohio experiment station at Wooster, told the Ohio Canners' Association at its annual convention here today. The pest, however, he said, has spread over more territory this year than the total for the three years previous.

Fields with the heaviest crops infestation had less than two per cent loss in weight of ears. Truck crops were not attacked. It has been shown, he said, that corn planted very late is likely to bear a lighter infestation than that planted earlier.

Two species of imported parasites have been liberated in the state, but their efficiency will not be known until they have had ample time to establish themselves, Professor Huber said, adding:

"Until natural control methods have been worked out it will be necessary to depend on artificial methods, such as shredding, ensilling, cutting the corn low so that the stubble that remains in the field will contain few borers, and burning all unfed or unused fodder. Burning such fodder is considered the most efficient means of destroying borers that remain in the unused stalks."

Athur McWilliams, chief of the state dairy and food division, commended the canners for their announced purpose to use only fit raw materials in their products.

Two hundred and fifty delegates are attending the gathering.

FUND IS RAISED TO KEEP HISTORIC LETTERS

LONDON — Nine letters signed and subscribed by the ill-fated Mary Queen of Scots are shortly to be offered to the British nation and, in order to secure them, together with 21 other documents connected with the queen, a fund of $11,000 is being raised by popular subscription.

The documents come from the archives of the family of Mure of Rowalan. They have never been offered for sale before, few of them have been published, and al lthrow fresh light on one of the most keenly debated episodes in British history.

WOMAN WAGES BATTLE WITH MARAUDING OWL

TACOMA, Wash. — A great owl that had long been killing poultry and wild game near South Bend, Wash., recently was caught and slain as a result of the pluck of Mrs. W. A. Wilson.

The woman, who lives on a ranch, heard a hen making a commotion, and she saw a great horned owl attacking it. She ran out, grasped the owl and held it despite wounds from its talons and beak. She called her husband, who killed the marauder. It measured four feet five inches across the wings.

PLANT JUICE PUTS HIM BACK ON JOB

Weak and Sick All Over with Stomach, Kidneys Before He Found Herbal Medicine

IMPROVED HIM EVERY WAY

"Your Plant Juice cleared up my stomach trouble; put my kidneys, in the best of shape, and I went back to work," declared Mr. George Arring, a well known resident of Toledo, Ohio citizen, living at 2167 Auburn Avenue, that city, when talking recently with The Plant Juice Man.

MR. GEORGE ARRING

"For five years I was sick constantly with my stomach and kidneys. Every bite I ate caused indigestion and brought on awful sickness with my stomach and, of course, I didn't get any nutrition from my food and kept growing weaker until it seemed like I didn't have any strength at all. I had terrible pains in my stomach and chest. My kidneys kept me in misery. Finally, I got so weak and sick all over I had to quit my job.

"Your Plant Juice changed me in every way. I grew better rapidly when I started on Plant Juice until now, I eat my meals without a bit of suffering afterward and the food agrees with me and gives me nourishment and I have gained back my normal strength. I do not have pains or the sick feeling with my stomach now. My kidneys seem entirely normal also since I have taken Plant Juice and I am able to sleep soundly and get up mornings feeling fully refreshed. I've even gone back to work and am on the job every day. Yes, I know from experience that your Plant Juice surely is remarkable in its action upon the system in general."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima by the Hunter drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets; and is sold also at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. adv

St. Marys Gas Field Exhausted

LIMA experienced its first gas shortage when, due to the wasteful "Mixer Rate" mentioned yesterday, the St. Marys gas field began giving out.

This promising field was of service for a period of only eight years. What had appeared as a source of supply that would be practically inexhaustible was being drained and the gas fires in this city failed to burn as brightly as before.

When the St. Marys field started to show signs of giving out, the company opened negotiations for a new supply of natural gas. A vast acreage in what was known as the Red Key field in Indiana was obtained and in this field the company drilled and had in operation 250 wells. The first gas from this field was transmitted to Lima in 1895.

On invitation of the company, a party of 40 men, made up of city officials and interested citizens, visited the Red Key field on November 11, 1898. There they found a pump station, built in four sections, the boilers and pumps being devided so that in case of a breakdown operations would not be entirely suspended. Five pumps were in operation. Charts showed that gas was being received at 80 pounds pressure at the pumps and discharged into the mains at 300 pounds pressure.

The boilers were capable of developing 3,700 horsepower, normally, but in emergency could develop 5,000 horsepower. At the time of this inspection J. D. S. Neely, who was then general manager of the company, announced that the company was paying $20,000 in rentals on territory yet to be developed.

But like the St. Marys field, the Red Key field started to show signs of weakening. Conditions became unsatisfactory. Pressure and volume rapidly diminished. Then in 1902, realizing that steps must be taken toward conservation, the company appealed to its patrons for more economical appliances and abandonment of the wasteful "Mixer System." It had drained one field and had so weakened another that the truth began to dawn—NATURAL GAS WAS NOT INEXHAUSTIBLE.

The company proposed the installation of meters as a step toward saving the gas supply, but this protective measure came too late to save the Red Key field.

Tomorrow we shall tell you of the adoption of meters in Lima and the big jump to another gas field to provide fuel for this city.
